ERICK HAWKINS & DANCE COMPANY AT S.G.W.U. DEC. 7 & 8

Erick Hawkins & Dance Company will be presented by Sir George Williams University's concert series Thursday December 7 and Friday December 8 at 8:40 p.m. in the 385-seat theatre of the Hall Building, Maisonneuve Boulevard and Bishop Street.

Hawkins, who studied with Kreutzberg and performed with Martha Graham, will bring his group of five dancers to Sir George to perform his original creations - some of the foremost choreography of the avant-garde.

With him will be composer-accompanist Lucia Dlugoszewski who has invented a whole orchestra of percussion instruments on which she performs on stage while the dancers perform around her.

Tickets for both performances ($2.50; students $1.00) now available at the Accounts Office, Norris Building, 1435 Drummond Street.

Reviews tell where Erick Hawkins is at:

"In the beautifully performed Early Floating the observer finds that new and fascinating wonders are still discoverable in the realm of body movement ..... Lucia Dlugoszewski is an uncommonly gifted composer."

Allen Hughes, New York Times

"Erick Hawkins provided a feast rich and rare."

Herbert Whittaker, Globe and Mail

"Erick Hawkins, mastercraftsman of intrinsic beauty ..... I wonder if there exist many dancers with such intimacy of pure gesture - of love, or playfulness, or sport. I delighted in the magnificent bodies, the perfection of each instant of movement."

Dinah Maggie, Combat, Paris

"Erick Hawkins is one of our most profoundly gifted choreographers and dancers. He has created a whole new world of dance."

Robert Sabin, Musical America
